

As a member of the Church Council of First United Methodist Church of Corvallis, OR, I recognize the need for thoughtful discernment in sharing information with the congregation. Our goal is to be as transparent as possible in our decision-making process, and to communicate information well and fully. Yet there will also be times when confidentiality is appropriate, and even specifically requested. For example, in personnel matters, legal matters, or other sensitive areas, a very high level of confidentiality will be expected. I pledge myself to honest, thoughtful and caring communication, and to confidentiality in areas requested by the council.
